

WILLIAM B. CLEVELAND NATURE CENTER DEDICATION June 26th, 2010 2:30 pm

The weather was just beautiful for the 100 or so people that attended the William B. Cleveland Nature Center Dedication. It has been many years of hard work by the Park staff and Friends of Punderson volunteers to build and equip the facility but all the hard work paid off in the end. Park visitors can now enjoy a leisurely drive through the Park on the many historically named roads as they make their way to the William B. Cleveland Nature Center. The dedication and determination of Bill Cleveland along with all the hard work of the many volunteers has made this day possible. A detailed history of Punderson State Park can be obtained by visiting our History web page. The people of Ohio, the Park staff, and the Friends of Punderson extend our deepest appreciation to the Cleveland and Coppedge families for their efforts in preserving the land that is now Punderson State Park.
